MULTI PALLET HANDLERS

Al Khatam offers high performance Multi-Pallet Handlers that play a crucial role in improving in plant transportation efficiency across diverse industries. Designed to move multiple pallets or load units simultaneously, these attachments help minimize handling time, optimize workflow, and enhance overall logistics performance.

Built with a strong and durable structure using T-profiles, C-profiles, and depending on the model, reinforced round profiles, our Multi Pallet Handlers deliver outstanding stability under demanding conditions. They are engineered for long operational life, extended service intervals, and minimal maintenance, making them a dependable solution for intensive industrial applications.

EOP: ATTACHMENTS - ELECTRICALLY OPERATED

At Al Khatam, we believe the future of material handling is electric—and that future is already here. Electric power is no longer limited to vehicles; even attachments for automated guided vehicles (AGVs), forklift trucks, and pedestrian stackers are now electrically powered, offering smarter, cleaner, and more efficient performance.

Through the innovative EOP series by KAUP, we bring to our clients advanced electric solutions that have revolutionized core attachment functions. This range includes sideshifters, fork positioners, rotators, and double pallet handlers—all equipped with state-of-the-art electronic drives designed to handle a wide variety of tasks with precision and reliability.

Al Khatam is proud to deliver these next-generation solutions to industries across the region—supporting progress through smart and sustainable material handling technologies.

STATIONARY EQUIPMENT

Al Khatam proudly offers Stationary Material Handling Equipment built from 1000-fold proven components of the KAUP modular design combined in a unique way. These robust solutions provide project-specific system integration that fits seamlessly into any production process.

Our equipment has been successfully used for handling bagged products like sugar and cement. In addition, they are widely applied in the handling and storage of consumer goods and beverages as well as in processing tasks such as turning sheet metal or paper sheets for double-sided treatment. Our application-oriented devices meet diverse industry demands with high efficiency.

Most of our equipment operates with a hydraulic power unit and offers flexible control options including automatic, semi-automatic, or manual operation, allowing optimal adjustment to each customer's specific needs.
